GOOD RACING AT LAKESIDE.

Oh, what a drubbing the Lakeside ring got yesterday! Five favorites and one second choice won. The fields in four of the events were so large that the volume of speculation was somewhat light. This alone kept the ring from a complete knockout.

The afternoon was warm and spring-like, a crowd of nearly three thousand was out, and the track was comparatively fast.

The racing features on the card were a three-quarter of a mile handicap for two-year-olds and a selling race at the odd distance of one mile and three-sixteenths.

A well balanced field of seven started in the 2-year-old handicap and so evenly were the weights adjusted that at post time there was no decided favorite, it being 13 to 5 each Boney Boy and Queen of Song, with Sea Lion held at 3 to 1 and Hanlight and Andes 6 to 1 each. The race was a cracking good one and resulted in a nose victory for Boney Boy. This was the only race of the day that Starter Dwyer, who, by the way is in excellent form at present, did not get the field away in a compact bunch.

Andes, a quick breaker, beat the barrier almost a length and with a fine display of speed stepped the first quarter in 24 seconds and the half in 49. On the far turn he seemed to have a winning lead. The order at that point was Andes by three lengths, Boney Boy second, a length and a half in front of Arthur McKnight. Queen of Song was fourth four lengths back. Rounding into the stretch Seaton, on Boney Boy, came close to the rails and made up so much ground that at the eighth post he was head and head with Andes. From there home the pair fought out every inch of the ground. Andes faltered once but came again. Seaton had little or no hold of Boney Boy's head, but was whipping and kicking for all he was worth and with the pair, hugging each other, finally finished in front on the extreme inside. Queen of Song was third and Sea Lion, who ran a very bad race, finished at the sixteenth.

Boanerges was backed from 1 to 2 almost off the boards for the long distance selling race, and he came home by himself. Bloss had the mount on the McGuigan cast-off and took no chances. The colt was good and had speed to loan, and, going to the front at flag fall, led by many lengths throughout. At the finish Boanerges was fighting for his head, and had the distance been twice as far it looked as though he could have gone on. George Lee, at a nice, juicy price, ran an astonishingly improved race and got the place from Double Dummy. His sudden improvement from the day previous furnished material for much gossip. It seems Owner James Arthur wanted the colt excused. Col. Clark refused on account of the size of the field. Trying to get horses excused to cover up previous bad performances is no novelty.

The fifteen named to start in the opening mile dash all ran, and going to the post it was 34 to 1, take your pick, between Hindoonet and Free Lady. The latter had been backed from 4 to 1 and better. At the first break the bunch was dispatched all together. On the first turn there was a mean looking mix-up and for a time the crowd held its breath. Fortunately no one went down, and everybody felt easier. McNickle, who was lucky in getting away flying, missed the jam on the first turn and having clear sailing the entire route won as he pleased by five lengths. Overland and Hindoonet had a hard fight for the place. The former got the verdict.

Eighteen maiden 2-year-olds lined up for the second race, and it was certainly an insane bunch. Each starter needed a man to hold him or her straight. Starter Dwyer did not waste much time with this lot and at the first break made a fairly good start. Nat Roe, off sixth, went to the front at once and led to the stretch. Here there was a general changing of positions, and any of the first half dozen had a winning chance. At the eighth post the race narrowed down to Nailer and Rival Dare. Burns was on the former, and clearly outdaring W. H. Martin won another purse for the Schorrs.

C. P. Fink had his Candlemas—Perhaps filly Hardly screwed up to concert pitch and dropped her into the fifth race along with Surmount, Milwaukee and other ordinary selling platers. The filly was backed from 3 to 1 down to 13 to 5, and, well handled by Hothersall, took her field into camp with little or no trouble. On the far turn Hardly was sharply interfered with, but she was so much the best that the interference made no difference in the result.

Everybody seemed to be of the same opinion about the last race and W. C. T., who opened at even money, was backed down to 7 to 10 and less. The alphabet horse won, but it took all he and Caywood could do to beat Graziella. The latter had all of her speed and after leading all the way tired at the very end.

In four of the six races Jockey Tom Burns finished absolutely last. He won on Nailer and was third with Milwaukee, but it is safe to say his backers did not lay up anything.

Arthur McKnight, the best of assistant starters, left last night for Nashville. After that meeting he goes to New Orleans for the winter.

In the paddock at Lakeside, Saturday, Mrs. Jimmie, the chestnut filly by Goldfinch—Delight, and Flying Bird, by Kantaka—Fauvette, will be sold at public auction. The pair now belong to George Murphy, who is to retire from the turf as an owner for this season.

Jockey J. Morgan, who rode all of the past summer for Marcus Daly through Montana, is an addition to the Lakeside riding talent. Morgan can ride now at 102 pounds.

NOTES OF THE TURF.

Concerning an incident vested with a measure of local interest yesterday's Cincinnati Enquirer says: "Reuben Meyers, who was ruled off the turf at Hawthorne by Judge Rees on the ground of fraudulent racing, and the elder Wagner were at Latonia yesterday. The purpose of Meyers' visit was to get from Secretary Hopper some pointers as to how to proceed with a view of securing reinstatement. As the Turf Congress rules prescribe that applications for redress of grievances must be handed into the Committee of Appeals within five days after the act from which relief is sought, Secretary Hopper advised Meyers to appeal direct to Judge Rees, by whom he was ruled off. People who know Judge Rees very well around here can see the finish of Meyers' application for reinstatement."

In this issue of DAILY RACING FORM the Coney Island Jockey Club advertises the annual renewal of three of its longest established stakes: the Foam and Surf for 2-year-olds, and the Tidal for 3-year-olds. These are among the really valuable fixtures of each year, and their well arranged conditions are strongly commended to the earnest consideration of western owners of promising yearlings. Entries close November 15, and special attention is called to the conditions to which they are subject.

A petition is being circulated among the owners at Latonia requesting that Wm. Brannon, of Polk Badget fame, be again reinstated to the privileges of the turf. It is hardly likely that that petition will meet with much consideration.

AMERICAN METHODS BEST.

As a horse loving Englishman "Kelston," of Morning Telegraph, has in his time seen much of breeding, training and racing methods in the birthplace of modern racing and is also familiar with American methods. As a result of his observations he has written some comparisons touching the handling of brood mares and young stock that is decidedly interesting. Some of his conclusions are here reproduced.

"While I would award the palm to the English breeder in the matter of generally showing more intelligence and looking further ahead in the matter of mating his mares than the American breeder, there I think the superiority in management ends, as while it costs the English breeder at least three times as much for the actual keep of mares and the rearing of young stock for market the system in vogue among English breeders in the treatment of mares and foals is much more on the artificial order than is the case in the most successful stud farms in America.

"In the big breeding establishments here the stock generally is much more out in the open, and in the care of mares in foal I know from personal observation that even in cold and stormy weather foaling mares, equally well cared for in the matter of feeding, will show better results year in and year out than mares that are housed twelve hours out of the twenty-four from the beginning of October until the daisies are in bloom the following spring.

"In the raising of yearlings for market the American breeder is, as a general thing, away ahead of his English brother. As, instead of shutting them up in small paddocks, they have plenty of range, and from early in April troops of young things can be seen gamboling together and racing with one another before they are four months old; and after weaning time from twelve to a score or more will be turned out all together to wrestle and race themselves to a standstill.

"The result is that the bone is hard, the tendons and sinews elastic and clean, while all of the vital organs are thus kept in good condition. It is this system of rearing yearlings that enables so many of them to stand the strain put on them in yearling trials, and I notice that the more range they have had before leaving the stud farm the better they stand these early trials, and also that they come to hand earlier as two-year-olds.

"The average English raised yearling would never be heard of as a racehorse if put through the mill, as is the custom here, in two or three months after leaving the sales ring. Many instances indeed have come under my notice here of youngsters being tried out a quarter of a mile in three weeks after leaving the sales ring. In England a trainer would be reckoned crazy who would attempt trying even so early as the end of August. In fact, as a rule he knows but little of the running abilities of his young division until the spring when they are 2-year-olds, which is better than knowing so much of them as yearlings.

"But what I want to say is that the average English yearling could not be got into the same condition of fitness to try for the reason that they have not had the liberty and range, and have also in most instances been forced and fattened, the average English studmaster being daft on the subject of having sleek coated and beefy yearlings to lead into the sales ring. It is this pampering of young thoroughbreds on the other side which enables the American bred one to hold his own as well as he does.

"The English breeder and trainer have so many other advantages that if they were to adopt the more common sense plan as to less pampering and more range and roughing it their horses would be sounder of limb with better constitutions, and there would be fewer bad winded ones among them, and the improvement all around would be most apparent.

"From what I have seen in the two countries this is the one thing that is working injury to the thoroughbred in England, and were it not that trainers go so slow and are so careful in the handling of yearlings there would be far more unsound horses in England than there are, and the proportion is as three to one in this country, which in my opinion is directly the result of coddling and lack of range in the first fifteen months of their existence.

"In the matter of the handling and treatment of stallions, the system generally in this country is more on natural and common sense lines on the best regulated stud farms. While the stallions are well taken care of, they are not fussed and babied with, but are allowed in the proper season to have plenty of liberty in roomy paddocks. The result of this natural way of treating a horse doing stud duty is that vicious or bad tempered stallions are rare indeed in this country, while in England the opposite is the case, which is little to be wondered at considering what they have to put up with in the way of fussing and cleaning, while to let a stallion, especially any of the swells of the harem, have his liberty in a paddock where he could roll in a mud puddle would be to the average swell English studman a shock he would not get over in a hurry.

"It is this more natural way of treating thoroughbreds generally which is responsible for American horses being so much more free from all sorts of vice which is common in both stallions and horses in training in England, and while the breeders and trainers of America may be able to learn in some ways from their kin across the sea, they can give them points in the raising of yearlings and in the handling of stallions."

GOSSIP OF THE TURF.

The meeting now in progress will not close Saturday, as originally advertised. The Latonia management, in compliance with the wishes of many of the horsemen that have been racing at the over-the-river track, nearly all of them, in fact, has decided to extend the meeting two weeks. It has been stated in the Enquirer on several occasions that the meeting would be extended if the weather and track conditions should appear to warrant, and now that the outlook for a period of good weather is favorable the extension has been officially announced, and the meeting will close Saturday, November 19, instead of the coming Saturday.

The racing will be kept up to the same standard of excellence that has obtained so far, and, whatever other faults may exist, the racing at the present meeting has been as clean and as free from suspicion as that at any meeting held this year. With a good track the next two weeks excellent sport is assured, as, with the exception of the McDowell string, all the better horses that have thus far furnished the sport are still at the Kenton county track ready to take part in the racing the remainder of the meeting. Aside from the stakes the inducements for them to race will be just as great as heretofore. The purses will be the same, averaging about $300 each. To get out the very best horses at the track several handicaps will be put on, with $400 added in each case. There will also be a couple of two-mile races during the continuance. It is, in fact, the intention of Secretary Hopper to make the racing for the extra two weeks as attractive as possible, as it is his desire to have the season wind up as nearly as may be "in a blaze of glory."—Cincinnati Enquirer.

Br. f. by Free Knight—Fauna III.
Off first break to a good start. Won easily. It was a terrific drive for the place. Free Lady was much the best. She was nicely handled, had all the luck in the race, and won as she pleased. This is a fairly good filly and was in a soft spot. Overland's race was a corking good one. In a mixup on the first turn, he, Chauncey Fisher and C H Whelan almost went down. The latter ran gamely after that and finished bang up. Globe II was running great guns at the end. He was also interfered with in the mixup on the first turn. Moch showed some speed, but tired. Hindoonet was poorly ridden and had a rough journey. Cutter stopped as if short at the end. The same comment applies to Moroni.

Free Lady, place, 8 to 5; show, 1 to 2. Overland, place, 3 to 1; show, 6 to 5. Hindoonet, show, 1 to 2.

9372 SECOND RACE—5 1-2 Furlongs. 2-year-olds. Maidens. Allowances. Purse $400; value to winner $385; 2-year-olds; $126 to second; $59 to third.

Winner—Br. c. by Belvidere—Miss Nailer.
Off at first break to a good start. Won in a hard drive; second, third and fourth driving just as hard. Nailer was the best and ran an extraordinarily game race. Burns whipped him from the drop of the flag to the wire. The colt swerved in the stretch, but Burns straightened him before any damage was done. A stronger ride at the finish would probably have won with Rival Dare. Martin was wobbling all over her and was more of a handicap than a help. Calchas came from the clouds in the stretch and finished with a tremendous rush. Barrier moved up alarmingly close at the eighth post, but stopped again. His race was better than the figures show. Miss Huron is a good looker, but hardly bridlewise. She is only two years and two months old now.

Scratched—Cuirassier, 108.
Overweights—Bolerie, 2 pounds; Major Bell, 2; Sam Lazarus, Esq., 21.
Nailer, place, 6 to 5; show, 1 to 2. Rival Dare, place, 10 to 1; show, 4 to 1. Calchas, show, 6 to 5.

9373 THIRD RACE—1 3-16 Miles. 3-year-olds and upward. Allowances. Purse $400; value to winner $300; $75 to second; $25 to third.

Winner—Ch. c. by Spendthrift—Llandrino.
Off at first break to a good start. Won easily; second driving. Boanerges outclassed his field. He is good now, was well ridden, and there was never a spot in the road that he did not hold the race at his mercy. George Lee ran a widely different race from his last one. There was a vast difference in the price also. Double Dummy ran an honest race. He was catching George Lee at the finish. Prince Blazes ran a bad race. It is the first bad one, too, that he has run on the local tracks this season. Owner Arthur was on the stand trying to get George Lee excused, saying he was stiff and sore and unable to race. It may be the colt is not consistent and more to blame for his varying form than the owner or rider.

Overweights—Prince Blazes, 34 pounds.
George Lee, place, 3 to 1.

9374 FOURTH RACE—3-4 Mile. 2-year-olds. Handicap. Purse $400; value to winner $300; $75 to second; $25 to third.

Winner—Ch. g. by Blitz—Sue B.
Off at first break to a poor start. Won driving to the limit; second and third were doing their best. Boney Boy is as game as a pebble and won clearly on his own courage. Seaton was more tired than the horse was after the race. At the eighth post it looked as though Andes would surely win. He faltered a trifle under punishment and then came again. The finish was a very close one. Andes is a quick breaker and beat the barrier. He had a lot of speed and set a terrific pace. Queen of Song was running strongly at the finish and is a good filly. Arthur McKnight showed a sharp turn of speed. Sea Lion ran a bad race. Throw it out entirely. He can and will do better than this. Harry Nutter was worsted at the start.

Overweights—Arthur McKnight, 4 pounds.
Boney Boy, place, even. Andes, place, 2 to 1; show, even.

Winner—Ch. f. by Candelmas—Peraps.
Off at first break to a good start. Won cleverly. It was a hard drive for the place. Hardly won as though she far outclassed her field. She was bumped into and almost knocked down on the far turn, but recovered from this accident gamely, and when straightened away for home had the race at her mercy. Surmount ran a good race. He is a fair colt and deserves attention from now on. Milwaukee looked like the winner on the stretch turn but died away at the end. Muskadine finished strong. Celtic Bard ran a good race from a poor beginning. Jim Blackburn is either a rank coward or was short. He stopped to almost a walk after going about three-quarters. Watch Nannie L's Sister should the track get heavy. She seems to be improving.

Scratched—Midian, 99.
Overweights—Nannie L's Sister, 2 pounds.
Hardly, place, even; show, 2 to 5. Surmount, place, 8 to 5; show, 4 to 5.

9376 SIXTH RACE—7-8 Mile. 3-year-olds and upward. Selling. Purse $400; value to winner $370; $10 entrance; $117 to second; $53 to third.

Post 16 minutes. Start fair. Won in a long, hard drive of two; second and third were driving also. W. C. T. was the best, but was fully extended to win. Caywood was hard at work on him from the three-furlong post home. Graziella ran an extra good race but weakened a trifle at the end. This filly is in winning form now. Locust Blossom had miserable racing luck. She was impeded at the start and never really had a clear path until the stretch was reached. Lucid seemed to sulk at the end. Nathanson looked high and ran as if far from ready. Lew Hopper got away all tangled up.

Scratched—Dr Marks, 109.
Overweights—Lucid, 2 pounds.
Graziella, place, 3 to 1; show, even. Locust Blossom, show, 2 to 1.
